WACHTER & CO.'S CHAMPAGNE.
"EXTRA DRY."

NOTICE.

Previous shipments of our brands to Calcutta, Bombay, etc., have been prepared in accordance with the taste that prevails at the English Court, where extremely dry Champagne is not desired, but we recognise the necessity of sending for the future to the Indies and other warm Climates a REALLY DRY WINE, whilst we carefully adhere to the same elegant style that has met with such universal favour.

Our labels remain unchanged with the sole addition of the words "Extra Dry."

THE SECOND EDITION OF THE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF INDIAN FAMINES. By ALFRED H. BROWN.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

MONDAY EVENING, 19TH NOV. 1877.

THE commercial telegrams from Home since Saturday contain few items of additional intelligence, but it is not unlikely that the fall of Kars may, by reviving rumours of peace negotiations, have some effect on the produce markets to-day.

Consols are still quoted at 96⅞, but French Rentes have undergone a sudden and important advance, the quotation on Friday having risen from 105½ to 106, and on Saturday to 106⅝.

Enfaced Rupee Paper in London remains unaltered: Fours, 81¾; Fours-and-a-half, 82; and Fives-and-a-half, 89½. Indian Exchange Bank shares, affected probably by the drop in Silver, show a downward tendency, the weekly quotations showing a decline of £1 per share in Hongkong and Shanghai, and 10s. in Orientals and Chartered.

The London General Produce Markets are unchanged, as also are Reuter's arrival quotations for Wheat; but in Seeds a decline of 3d. per quarter is quoted in Calcutta Linseed to arrive, and 3d. to 6d. in Bombay ex-warehouse, 6d. in Calcutta Rapeseed to arrive and 1s. ex-warehouse.

A withdrawal of £1,000,000 from the Bank of England was reported on Friday—destination unknown—and the rate of discount on 3 months' sight Bank Bills is given at 3½ against 3½ per cent. on Tuesday last.

The Liverpool Cotton Market does not appear to have undergone any marked change. Notwithstanding last week's comparatively small receipts at the American ports, great dulness still prevailed up to Saturday, and to-day's market is not likely to have been better, with Saturday's receipts 5,000 bales over the corresponding date last year.

The New York telegrams of Saturday still quote ready Mid. Uplands at 11¼ cents, February shipment at 11¼ cents per lb. The receipts at the ports show the following comparisons:—

	1877.	1876.	1875.
Saturday's Receipts	32,000	27,000	23,000
Total since 1st Sept	1,163,000	1,458,000	1,271,000

The visible supply of Cotton for all Europe, omitted in Reuter's telegram of Friday, has come to hand to-day and the following shows the comparison with the two previous years:—

	1877.	1876.	1875.
Total supply	1,660,000	2,153,950	2,111,670
East Indian	194,000	403,100	624,660

Reuter now confirms the quotation of 5 4½d. per cz. for Bar Silver in London, which we had through private channels on Saturday. We now hear it reported that supplies are again scarce, and that the German Government have withdrawn from the market as sellers at present rates. We have, however, had reports of this nature so frequently of late, that no one is inclined to place much dependence on them, and, in all probability, the reported scarcity to the contrary notwithstanding, we shall hear of further large shipments by next Southampton steamer.

The Bank of Bombay return for the week ending on Saturday shows the following changes:—

	Rs.
Public Deposits at H. O.	Inc. 2,56,033
Do „ Branches	Inc. 5,37,659
Other Deposits	Inc. 10,99,974
Loans	Inc. 9,08,837
Bills Discounted	Inc. 50,868
Cash and Currency Notes	Inc. 24,97,529

These alterations speak for themselves as to the increasing ease in money. An addition of 25 lacs to the Cash Balance, four-fifths of which arises from a falling off in the public demand, indicates a state of things which would warrant much lower rates of interest than those now current, and in all probability there will be a reduction of one if not two per cent. made at Wednesday's Board meeting in the official Bank changes. The outside market, as we have pointed out, has discounted such a movement some time back, short fixed loans on Government Securities being obtainable at 4 per cent.

STERLING EXCHANGE to-day opened firm at an advance of 16d. on Saturday's quotations, and owing to the higher quotation for Silver and stronger accounts from Calcutta, the upward movement gained strength during the day, and we now quote a rise of ⅛d. per rupee all round. Transactions have not been large, and sellers of private paper show no disposition to do business at the increased rates, but there can be no doubt that at the moment the Banks show considerable firmness. Whether this will be maintained, however, in the face of the increasing ease in money, continued large shipments of Silver, the probability of an early resumption of Council drafts, and the stagnant state of our export trade, is very doubtful, and unless something new turns up, we fancy the general tendency of operators will be to buy rather than sell. We quote:—

Bank Bills, on demand	...1s. 9d.	per Rupee
Do. 6 months' sight	..1s. 9d.	„
Credits „ 3	„ „ ...1s. 9 7-16d.	„
Documents „ 3	„ „ ...1s. 9⅛.	„

On Calcutta we have not heard of any business, and we still quote demand at 3-16 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight ¾ per cent discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER remains firm at former quotations, but the extent of business passing is limited in the extreme. We still quote: Fours, Rs. 94½; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 94½; Fives-and-a half, Rs. 102.

In SHARES there has been very little done today, and quotations are unaltered throughout except for Spinning and Weaving Companies, in which we quote an advance of Rs. 15 in Alliance, Rs. 10 in Fleming and Rs. 5 in Colaba, while there is a decline of Rs. 10 in Bombay United, Dhurrumsey, Great Eastern and Manockjee Petit, Rs. 15 in Hindustan and Rs. 5 per share in Jewraj Balloo.

COTTON continues very dull, and, with the exception of some purchases of old crop by the local Spinning Companies at about previous prices, we have not heard of any business. For New Crop sellers are still asking former rates, but such buyers as there are seem inclined to hold for a reduction of Rs. 2 per candy. Current quotations are:—

	per candy.
New Hingunghaut, January delv	Rs. 217 f.p.
„ Broach Feb.	„ „ 211 „
„ Akote „ „	„ „ 203 „
„ Omra (good) Dec.	„ „ 205 „
„ Do. „ Feb.	„ „ 202 „
„ Do. F.G.F. Dec.	„ „ 202 „
„ Do. „ Feb.	„ „ 199 „

For LINSEED the enquiry to-day has been less active and ready parcels may also be bought at Rs. 6 9 to Rs. 6 10 per cwt. For May delivery purchases of 10,000 cwts. are reported to have been made at Rs. 6 2 per cwt. RAPESEED remains nominal at Rs. 7-9 per cwt.

FREIGHTS continue very dull for ready shipment, the quotation for Liverpool by steamer being 25s. and for Trieste and Venice 22s. 6d. to 25s. per ton; but further forward rather more firmness is observable, and January loading steamers are in demand at 30s. U. K. or Continent, while for the Mediterranean ports further considerable engagements have been made at £2-2-6 to £2-5 payable here for March-April-May shipment.

PIECE GOODS have been quieter to day, a pause having apparently taken place in the up-country demand. Prices are not altered, however, and a resumption of buying seems generally expected by the dealers. Local goods continue to meet a comparatively ready sale at fully previous rates.

COALS continue to evince an upward tendency for distant arrivals, there being next to nothing offering, but on the bunder there is no change, the pressure to sell on the part of weak holders preventing any advance in rates.

PERHAPS it will interest our readers generally, and those in Berar particularly, to know for certain that the Head Quarters of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts will be fixed at Amraoti. It was thought at first that Akola would have had the preference, owing chiefly to the accommodation that is available there for public offices, in the vacant rest houses constructed some years ago; but the present Commissioner has determined that bricks and mortar shall have no consideration in this most important question, and has very decidedly given his opinion in favour of Amraoti, which is by far a healthier place and one of more importance in a commercial point of view. This decision will doubtless give satisfaction to nearly all the officials in the Province, as the majority of them, on being asked for their opinions, wrote favourably of Amraoti.

THE Pioneer criticizes with unaccustomed vigour the defence of the narrow gauge for India recently published in the Times. We publish the article elsewhere, and are glad our contemporary has called public attention to the extraordinary partiality of the Times for Mr. Fairlie and his rolling stock—a craze which has puzzled us for years. Mr. Fairlie seems to have nobbled that leading journal as effectually as Mr. Kittredge lately nobbled H. E. Sir Richard Temple about the Bombay Tramway.

THE Madras Mail has an excellent article in reply to Sir J. Fitzjames Stephen's letter affirming the legality of Lord Lytton's coup d'état in Madras. Sir Fitzjames Stephen seems to hold a perpetual retainer for the Government of India, to defend all acts of arbitrary authority tending to the establishment of a highly centralized despotism in this country, and in his recent letter to the Times he has undertaken to show that the old style of "Governor in Council" in the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay is a useless form, since the Governor of either of those Presidencies has a perfect right under Section 28 of the Indian Councils Act to make rules for setting aside his Council altogether whenever it pleases him to do so. The Mail shows, we think, conclusively that this argument is founded on a fallacy, since the section in question refers only to rules for the conduct of ordinary business in the Council, and cannot be intended to destroy the independent authority secured to the Councillors by former statutes and by the Indian Councils Act itself. We may mention that this question was raised in Bombay during the Governorship of Sir Philip Wodehouse, and finally disposed of, so far as this Presidency is concerned, by Mr. Gibbs in an able Minute, in which he proved to the satisfaction of Sir Philip that the Councils Act does not confer on the Governors of the minor Presidencies those powers of acting without the consent of their Council which the Governor General undoubtedly possesses.

WITH reference to a statement published in the Bombay Gazette of the 12th instant, that Mr. Balaji Babaji Thakor, Mamlutdar of Mundibshal, in the Kaladgi Collectorate, had been suspended "in consequence of frauds in his famine relief accounts," we learn that, although Mr. Balaji is under suspension, it is not on account of any suspicion of fraud. Up to the present the Collector has not, we believe, had any cause to doubt Mr. Balaji's integrity.

IT is reported in Calcutta that Mr. Alpin has been degraded from the post of Calcutta Postmaster to that of an Inspector, and his pay reduced from Rs. 700 to Rs. 400 per mensem. The recent case in the High Court at Calcutta, in which it was proved that some securities had been disposed of which were in Mr. Alpin's charge as official custodian, has no doubt been the occasion of his degradation.

WE regret to learn, says the Lucknow paper, that dengue has again made its appearance. A number of cases are under treatment in the regimental hospitals in cantonments. We hear of no invasion of the civil station as yet. This distressing malady has also appeared in North Arcot.

MR. MCCARTIE, Assistant Collector in Cuddapah District, has submitted a further report to Government on his experiment of feeding cattle with prickly-pear. He summarises the general results as follows:—"The total expenditure from February 15th to June 30th was Rs. 900, for which 14,118 cattle were fed. This is a good deal of money, but at the same time it must be remembered that had it not been for this supply of food, the great majority of the animals that were kept in good condition till June 30th, would infallibly have died during the dry hot weather between the middle of March and May, when there was not a blade of grass to be seen, the richer ryots only having stocks of straw which were jealously kept up for the agriculturist cattle. So far I consider the experiment has been a success, and it would have been still greater but for the rain which fell in March, May, and June."

IN the description of a proclaimed offender, a Gond murderer, for whose apprehension a reward is offered in the last Central Provinces Gazette, we read, "Gangu, Gond, has a peculiar superstition against allowing the shadow of another person to fall on him. He is very particular about this." A similar superstition prevails amongst several of the wild tribes in India; has the origin of it ever been satisfactorily accounted for?

IT is said that a marriage has been arranged between Prince Musloodeen, grandson of the late King and nephew of the Crown Prince of Delhi, at present a resident of Rangoon, and the daughter of Hadjee Abdool Raymon Sahib's brother-in-law of that town.

A LARGE python was killed in a novel way lately at the Raffles Museum, Singapore, in the presence of the Maharajah of Johore and several leading residents. The reptile's head was first of all secured by canvas bands to the iron bars of the cage, and the Curator then rendered it insensible by means of a sponge dipped in chloroform. Carbolic acid was then squirted down its throat by means of a large syringe, and in about 10 minutes the animal was dead. Its throat was then cut, and all fear of a return to life was over. Its live circumference was nearly 33 inches in the thickest part, but after death it contracted to 2 feet. The length is 21 feet 2 inches.

THE following pleasant and sketchy notice of the Hon. Mr. Dalyell is written by the Madras correspondent of the Lahore paper:—"Mr. Dalyell may have many failings: his careful courtesy, or courtesies rather, for their name is legion, may be a shade too marked, his blandness if anything too bland, and his manner urbane to a fault. He may have earned (in Calcutta especially) the character of a courtly and well trained 'Jeames,' but under this polish or veneer there is something rough and strong, which may be likened to oak or granite. A certain amount of repressed brusquerie shows itself sometimes in spite of all this fine smoothness and polish; but the courtly smoothness is as a rule uppermost, and if now and then the sharpness and roughness of the rock makes itself felt, it is in general hidden by flowery disguises, and is unseen, at any rate, by the careless eye. In Madras I may fairly say Mr. Dalyell was a favourite; a good actor once, he appreciates excellent acting, and is by no means a critic to be despised. As a manager of theatricals his tact can be pitted as good as any. He won over Madras ladies and persuaded them to act in days when lady actresses were almost unknown; he is still remembered as a most perfect Sir Charles Coldstream in 'Used Up,' and his lavish hospitality and cordial kindness to his guests will not soon be forgotten either in Madras or in Bangalore, where for some time he reigned as Commissioner of Mysore. If common sense, tact, experience of many phases not only of Indian affairs and politics but also of Indian society are valuable gifts, Mr. Dalyell possesses them all in an uncommon degree, and is likely to prove as useful in the Indian Council as his predecessor, whose faithful friend and warm admirer he is generally supposed to be."

THE same writer returns to the subject of want of tidiness and officer-like style of dress in the Madras Native Army:—"I have been much amused at the storm of wrath my rather severe strictures on the officers of the Madras Native Army has called forth. Remarks such as mine, made (I frankly confess) in more moderate language, are of daily occurrence both in conversation and in print. Satirical words about the slovenliness of the generality of the officers alluded to, 'hits' of all kinds, gibes and sometimes in perfect good temper but none the less pointed, are aimed at them on all occasions. But innocuous which are too delicately put and jokes which are perhaps obscurely worded, are lost upon them, and are at any rate passed over in perfect silence. A severer attack, a homethrust, remarkable rather for roughness than aught else, was needed to stir them from dull indifference and apathy, and my severe strictures seem to have had the desired effect. The Mail published an extract from my letter to you of some time back, and in a day or two some comments of a curious nature were made with reference to the harsh charges it contained. When correspondents arise to defend officers, be they officers of the British or the Native Army, they ought to make good their cause, and not confine themselves to weak statements about trivialities and startling assertions about cricket and manly sports being a 'waste of time.' One feels indignant when such poor, paltry excuses are put forth in obscure sentences and ill-turned phrases, and, in consideration to the merits of the very many brilliant exceptions to the rule amongst officers of the Native Army, I feel almost inclined to take up the cudgels myself in their behalf. There is plenty of sterling metal left in the Madras Army; but it lies rusting, and may become duller yet unless pride, self-respect, and anxiety not only to will but to do, are roused in it. 'Dress,' says one of my adversaries, 'is a matter of fact.' To this I can but reply, that taste has certainly little to do with the dress of an officer of the Native Army as a rule. His fault lies in the lack of it; dress to him should be a matter of habit, and when self-respect and self-pride are fairly roused, neatness and smartness, rigid attention to details and military precision will follow of themselves, the men as to smartness taking their tone from their officers. To the fine exceptions I have alluded to so slightly, let me make en passant my amende honorable; but to the others I can only say, that if my words have had any effect in rousing them from dulness and apathy, I shall not regret having written them."

THE World:—During the Prince of Wales's tour in India there was attached to him, as his personal attendant, a stalwart Afghan, who, in full national attire, was always by day at his Royal Highness's beck, at night slept across the door of his room or tent. The faithful Afghan came to England with the Prince, and dwelt in peace at Sandringham, affably patronising the establishment. But when the Turko-Russian war broke out he became restless, and smiled no more. At length the fighting devil in him could no longer be repressed; he appealed to Mr. Knollys for indefinite leave of absence, and his petition was granted. He departed with all speed to the Turkish army in Asia, and recently a communication has been received from him in which he expresses a modest confidence that he has already despatched several Russian souls to the infernal regions; and that, with the help of Allah, he will do a little more in the same line of business.

ON Sunday week four police peons murdered a little girl, the daughter of a goldsmith residing in Hyderabad (Deccan). The circumstances are as follows: the four peons were placed in charge of a house under judicial attachment. The girl, about ten years old, was in the habit of going to the premises to gather fruit from a guava tree there. On the night of the murder the girl was decked out with valuable jewels, and at about sunset she, as usual, went to pluck fruit. The peons, taking advantage of the opportunity, seized and strangled her, and secreted the jewels. The body was buried in the attached house. Suspicion pointed to the peons, and the house was broken into by the relatives of the goldsmith; on a search being made the next day, the feet of the girl were seen peering out of the floor which was covered over with baskets. The peons are under arrest.

INSOLVENT DEBTOR'S COURT.—The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley presides at the next regular sitting of the court to-morrow (Wednesday).

HIGH COURT.—Yesterday the High Court re-opened after the autumn vacation, Sir Charles Sargent, Mr. Justice Bayley, and Mr. Justice Green presiding in three of the division courts. Mr. Justice Green rose early in order to read up the cases committed for trial at the fifth Criminal Sessions, at which he presides.

WE learn that the s. s. Zanela entered the Sassoon Dock on Saturday morning, and commenced discharging at once. The s. s. Zambino left the dock last night, and the s. s. Vortigern will come in to-night. There are also the steamers Arch Druid and Nellie Martin loading in the dock.

FALSE MEASURE.—Osman Hussan, a hawker of salt, was yesterday fined Rs. 20 by Mr. Nana Morojee on being convicted of having in his possession a false measure of capacity, without a satisfactory excuse, he being a retail dealer.

HOUSEBREAKING AND THEFT.—Yesterday, a Hindoo, named Dugria Rama, was convicted by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee of housebreaking and theft of property valued at Rs. 396, belonging to Jessa Wootajee, and was sentenced to twelve months' hard labour in the House of Correction.

A NOTED PICK-POCKET.—Deen Mahomed, a noted character, was yesterday sentenced to twelve months' rigorous imprisonment in the House of Correction by Mr. Nana Morojee, on being convicted of stealing one rupee from the pocket of Heeria Camilia, whilst at the Arthur Crawford Markets on Sunday last.

GAMBLERS.—Yesterday, Mohunjee Jetha and five others were charged before Mr. Nana Morojee, at the instance of Mr. Inspector Framjee Bhicajee, prisoner No. 1 with keeping a common gaming house at Moody Khana Street, Fort, and the rest, together with the first prisoner, with being found gaming therein. They were all adjudged guilty and fined Rs. 20 each.

AN INTOLERABLE NUISANCE.—M. K. B. writes to us—"Permit me, through the medium of your valuable journal, to bring to the notice of the Municipal authorities an intolerable nuisance caused by the passing and repassing at Byculla, on the Parell Road, between 9 and 10 p.m., of halalcore carts. I hope the authorities will turn their attention to this subject and make some better arrangement. The sooner it is done, the better."

FALL OUT OF A WINDOW.—A Coroner's inquest was held yesterday at Tembker Street, on view of the body of a child who fell from the second storey of a house into the street, and expired from the effects of the injuries sustained. A verdict of accidental death was recorded.

THE MURDER OF MR. ROONAN.—We learn that an application will be made to-day by the counsel for the defence in the above case, before the presiding Judge of the Criminal Sessions, to fix a date for the hearing of the case, to enable Dr. Joynt, at present in Kurrachee, to appear to give evidence on behalf of the prisoner, Josquin Britto.

THE DIRECTOR-GENERAL OF POST OFFICES IN INDIA.—Mr. Monteath, though all day engaged in business, seems never to weary in efforts to do good. He delivered a lecture at Kirkee on Friday evening on the death of Lazarus, illustrating the resurrection of the soul. There was a large number of the men of the Artillery and not a few officers present, with several persons from Poona were also present. Sunday afternoon he devoted a suitable lecture to the young English speaking Brahmins of the city, and to-night he is to lecture again in the Assembly Rooms. This evening he is to speak of the Gospel in the Jewish Tabernacle, and to exhibit a model of the Tabernacle in illustration of his subject. It will be seen from the above record that Mr. Monteath does not spare his physical strength when he can do good. It is very pleasant to see such earnestness in this good work; we might all follow his example.—Deccan Herald.

WE learn that a gentleman travelling from Bombay to Allahabad was robbed at Jubbulpore of a courier bag containing Rs. 400 in cash and notes, a pay certificate, and a life policy. On arrival at the latter station he was requested to alight and change carriages, and according to the statement that has reached us, the gentleman was not more than 40 yards away from the carriage, and scarcely over a minute absent, when he missed his property. He also complains that two of his friends were robbed in a similar manner some time back—one at Cawnpore, the other at Sholapore; and considers that the Railway Police do not exercise enough vigilance. At all railway stations a great many coolies and others are knocking about at the time the trains are in the station; this is owing to the niggardly system of not employing more porters in uniform. Each traveller has to engage the services of any cooly obtainable to remove his effects. No strange coolies ought to be admitted, and a sufficient staff of porters in uniform—easily distinguished—employed to move the luggage of passengers; as it is, the few at each station are fully occupied, when the trains are at the station, in transhipping goods and shifting vehicles. Bad management and penury have a good deal to do with these frequent robberies.—Railway Service Gazette.

AN AVERTED ACCIDENT.—On the night of the 5th instant 29 empty waggons, one loaded waggon, and a third class carriage ran down from the Jolarpett yard where they were being shunted, and came to a stand about half a mile east of the Yellundahully Station (vide Colonel Wallace's report). The watchman who was on duty to the east of the latter station, was two miles away; but heard a rumbling sound and thought it was some special train coming, and so exhibited his all right signal; but finding that no engine was attached to it, and as it was going rather slowly, he put on his danger signal, and then proceeding it ran in front and informed the station master, who was not until then aware that a runaway train was on the line. The 6 p.m. mail train from Madras was due at the time; on arriving at the station (it is not booked to stop here) the engine ran up and brought the "run-away waggons" into the station, after which the mail train proceeded safely on her way.—Id.

A SUIT, the circumstances connected with which will create a slight sensation in certain circles, will shortly be brought before the Civil Courts, Kurrachee. The plaintiff is our much respected citizen, Mr. Walter Meiklejohn, and the defendant Mr. J. Henderson, Assistant in the firm of Messrs. Finlay and Co.—Beacon.

THE members of the Kurrachee Bar met Judge Grant in his Chambers as requested on Wednesday, for the purpose of discussing the question of employing Mookhtiars, or law brokers. All the members of the Bar were present, also Judge Baker. Mr. Constable, who thought of employing a certain number of licensed Mookhtiars, said that his views on the subject were considerably modified, and he agreed with the pleaders that it would not be correct to give these men a legal status. Judge Grant read a petition that was submitted to Judge Waddington by the legal practitioners some few years back, and all present quite concurred in the views therein expressed, and were of opinion that no pleader should pay any commission to any Mookhtiar who chose to bring work to him. The only question upon which some of the gentlemen present were not agreed was, that any groundless accusation should, in the first instance, be preferred to the Judge of the Sadder Court. They thought that the matter should be first submitted to a meeting of the members of the Bar, and if a prima facie case was then made out, that the Sadder Court should take notice of it. The question stands in abeyance until the whole of the gentlemen practising in Kurrachee form an association, and frame certain rules for the protection of their interests.—Id.

ADDITIONAL PASSENGERS BY THE HOMEWARD MAIL.

THE P. AND O. Co.'s s. s. SURAT, Captain G. C. Barn sailed yesterday for Southampton via the Suez Canal with the English mails and the following additions passengers:—

For Southampton—Mr Dixey's child, Mr R Malone, Mr C Webb, Mr Evans, Mr F Maleby, Mr F Higgins, Mr W Higgins, Mr W G Lemin, Mr J Davenport, Mr J Ball and Mr T Hallett.

For Brindisi—Dr C Joynt, Mr and Mrs Hosack, Colonel G R Phillips, Mr and Mrs Fitzjames and child.

HIGH COURT.—19TH NOVEMBER.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. JUSTICE BAYLEY.)

FUTTEH MAHOMED CASSIM VS. ERDULJEE RUSTOMJEE SONAWALLA AND OTHERS.

MR. BURDOODIN, instructed by Messrs. Tyabjee and Sayani, for the plaintiff, asked for a consent decree. The defendants appeared in person and gave their consent. The Court gave a decree for plaintiff for Rs. 3,500 in full satisfaction of his claim against defendants, payable by monthly instalments of Rs. 500 each on the 15th of the month. Defendants to pay all the costs of the suit.

THE EAST INDIA BANK VS. CASSUMBHOY DHURUMSEY AND OTHERS.

Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Littil, for the plaintiff, said this was one of the cases arising out of the East India Bank, and he asked that the case might be transferred to Sir Charles Sargent's board, as there was a prospect of the whole being compromised.

The Judge—One judge has no power to transfer cases to the list of other judges.

Mr. Lang thereupon asked for a postponement until the 10th December.

Mr. Macpherson, instructed by Messrs. Rimington, Hore, and Langley, for the defendant Kessowjee Naik, consented.

The Judge thought the two cases above this would take some days. An order for postponement was made accordingly.

CEYLON IS LIFE.—Dr. Bright's Phosphodyne.—Multitudes of people are hopelessly suffering from Debility, Nervous and Liver Complaints, Depression of Spirits, Hypochondria, Timidity, Indigestion, Failure of Hearing, Sight and Memory, assisting the ravages of Disease, or some other of a predisposition are now remedy PHOSPHODYNE (Quinine Dexter), which at once allays all irritations and excitement, imparts new energy and life to the entire blood constitution, and rapidly cures every stage of these hitherto incurable and distressing maladies. Sold by all Chemists and Druggists throughout the Globe.

☞ CAUTION.—PHOSPHORUS is sometimes sold in the form of Pills & Lozenges; it should be generally known that every form where solid particles of Phosphorus are in combination is dangerous. It is therefore necessary that the public should be cautioned against the use or any form of Phosphorus not perfectly soluble in water.

THE DRAINAGE COMMISSION.

By Mr. Bell—Your scheme is in part, ther, to put the sewage into the sea? A—Yes, unless it is found necessary to take it away elsewhere, and then you could irrigate the land or defecate it; but that would be so costly that the city could not afford it. Q—Do not you think the scheme proposed by Mr. Walton and Col. Tulloch would prevent the saturation of the soil by storm waters to a much greater extent than has ever been the case before in Bombay? A—I do not know that there is any scheme proposed to take away the storm waters quicker than they get away now. They are proposed to be taken away by the present drains, in the same way as they are now. Q—You propose to flush your main drains with salt water. Is there any sanitary objection to that? A—I do not think so: it would be better to flush them with fresh water. That would be only the main sewers. Q—Then, as to these 70 miles of pipe drains: I notice that the whole of the 70 miles of pipe drains lie considerably above the level of high water, spring tides; about 86-78 Town Hall datum? A—No, they would not all be above—certainly not; in some cases they would be below. They have to join into the main sewers. Q—But for the most part? A—Yes, for the most part they would be; some parts would not. Q—Well, is it to be expected that 70 miles of pipe drains for the most part raised above that point will very much effect the sub-soil water? A—Certainly. Q—What is the general level of the native town? A—I should say it is about 90 to 92. Q—And you think it averages about 90 to 92? A—Yes, or perhaps 95 would be nearer. Q—And the Khetwady part? A—The lowest part there is 85, I believe. Q—And the Flats? A—That, I think, is about 78 to 83, 84, or 85. Q—So that your drain would probably be laid at a reduced level at about 86-78, you say, considerably above high water spring tides? A—I do not think I said the drains would be considerably above high water spring tides; the average level of the drains would be about 85, I should say. Q—Then, take the case of a street in Bombay with drains laid three or four feet under a macadamised road? A—More than that. Q—Well, say five or six feet,—would the greater part of the rainfall be carried off by water tables into the present sewers? A—I should say of a very heavy rainfall about three quarters and of an ordinary rainfall about two-thirds. Q—In your report you quote the case of finding water in Marine Street at a reduced level 80 in the month of May; explain how this is an argument in favour of sub-soil drainage for the city? A—I think so, because if it was at 80 in May, the probability is it would be at 88 in the monsoon. Q—But can you quote any facts as to the level of the sub-soil water?

Mr. Braham—In the monsoon?

Mr. Bell—Yes.

Mr. Braham—No.

By Mr. Bell—Then it is only from the fact of water being found at 80 in Marine Street in the month of May that you deduce your argument? A—I should deduce from it, whether the water is sufficient enough to support the construction advocated, and secondly, whether the user is not itself illegal. A very strong case would have to be made out to show that a statute, so recent as the Indian Councils Act, 1861, was a measure which, in the sense in which, on the face of it, cannot be discovered. Now, all that can be said in the case in hand is that Lord Canning and his successors have, as a matter of fact, found it necessary for the despatch of business to distribute it among the several members of the Government, each by himself disposing of the question allotted to him. Now, this may be a very sensible and even a very indispensable arrangement, and it is an arrangement which the members of a Government can hardly be prevented from making; but neither the convenience of it, nor the fact of its having been made, prove that the 28th Section of the Act justifies the making of the rule which purports to have the power to be conferred upon the Governor General in Council, and in another section simply says that the Governor General may from time to time make rules for the more convenient transaction of business in Council, a plain man wants a good deal of persuasion to make him believe that Parliament intended the power given by the latter section to comprehend the very things which the Governor General is empowered to do under the former Section, provided only that certain conditions have been first fulfilled. Again, when there is a statute declaring expressly that the Court of Directors, that is, at the present day, the Secretary of State, may suspend the appointment of a Council, and have the executive Government of a Presidency administered by a Governor alone, it is difficult to believe that an innocent-looking section like the 28th of the Council's Act, is intended to give practically the same power to a Governor himself. And yet that is what Sir J. Stephen would have. Subject only to the power of protest on the part of the Council, the Governor has, according to Sir J. Stephen, the same power as is given in express terms, and under certain conditions, to the Governor General, and unconditionally to the Secretary of State.

Then, for his second argument, Sir J. Stephen contends that under the 40th and 41st Sections of the statute of George III., coupled with the 54th and the 65th Sections of William IV., the Governor General might anyhow have ordered the Governor to do what he has done. Now, if the 65th Section of the latter statute stood alone, this argument would have some force, because, in the most general terms possible, it contains that the Governors of Presidencies shall be bound to obey the orders and instructions of the Governor General in Council, and the statute of George III. had already declared that the Governor General might, while absent from Council, issue such orders as the Governor General in Council might issue. But the same statute of William IV. keeps alive the other sections of the earlier statute, and those sections, if read with the 65th Section, as they clearly must be read, very materially limit its general operation. The 40th Section specifies the kind of matters in which the Supreme Government may interfere with the Governors of Presidencies, matters such as "negotiations with the country powers or States, levying war or making peace, the collection or application of revenues." And according to the ordinary rule of construction these specific words should be taken to denote the class to which the general words refer. Tried by this rule, the section will hardly be considered a empowering clause to enable revolutionize the form of Government in a Presidency, and practically do what only the Secretary of State is, by express words, authorized to do. However, be that as it may, the argument is beside the question, for it does not touch the 28th Section, by which section the rule in question must stand or fall. No order has been made by the Viceroy under the powers given him by the Statutes of George III., and William IV. A rule has been made under the Council's Act. The validity of the rule has to be tried by a consideration of the terms of the Act on which it is based, and when Sir J. F. Stephen, declining that task, calls attention to the practice in Calcutta, and to the powers of the Viceroy, he is making a side issue only, and is endeavouring to overcome opposition rather by the weight of his authority, than by the weight of his arguments.

THE LATE RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

EXTRAORDINARY CONDUCT OF A STATION MASTER.

WE learn that the accident at Naggery was caused solely by the Assistant Station Master of that station, in this wise: a telegram was sent to the Station Master of Naggery by Mr. Hill, the Divisional Assistant Traffic Manager, cancelling the running of certain trains, in which the 2-45 a. m. goods train was omitted. Moonoosawmy, the Assistant Station Master, seems to have got an impression into his head that the omission was an error, and repeatedly inquired by wire if this was so, and was told by the signaller that the omission was correct, and that the 2-45 a. m. train was not to run. Once having got the idea into his head that the omission was incorrect, he seems to have made up his mind that every one else but himself was making a mistake. The Raichore mail train, which was running late and light, with only one first class passenger, arrived at the station, when driver Howe and the guard were served with a telegram addressed to the driver and guard of the 1-35 p.m. mail train, intimating to them that the 2-45 a.m. goods train was cancelled. This telegram appears to have been the invention of Moonoosawmy, the Assistant Station Master, as no telegram was sent to the guard or driver of this train by Mr. Hill, and none was received at Naggery by any reason Moonoosawmy could give at the preliminary enquiry for this extraordinary act of his in forging a most important document, is that he thought the message received by him was incorrect. What makes it still more difficult to understand Moonoosawmy' conduct is that he knew perfect well that the authority for interfering, altering or cancelling of trains was confined to competent officers who had no authority to delegate this work to any one else. Further, how told the Station Master that there was something wrong, as his (Howe's) son-in-law, the driver of the 2-45 a.m. train, had informed him that he expected to meet him at Naggery Station with the Government horses; but when the concocted message was put into his hands, he steamed out of the station, placing implicit confidence in the authority under which it was issued, alas! only to meet his death. Poor Howe was a very careful and hardworking man. It is known that he delayed his train at Naggery till he was forced to leave by the action of the Station Master. He had scarcely got a mile out of Naggery when he saw the goods train, about which he had so many misgivings and doubts, approaching; but he was powerless to avert the collision, which cost him his life.—Madras Mail.

INDIAN EXTRACTS.

SIR J. F. STEPHEN AND THE MADRAS COUNCIL.

(Madras Mail.)

By a recent mail we had Lord George Hamilton's official explanation of the Governor's action with regard to his Council. By last week's mail we had an amateur explanation offered by the self-constituted advocate of the Government of India, in the person of Sir J. F. Stephen. As so often happens when the case is a bad one, the grounds of defence are various, and not altogether consistent. The advocates are not fully agreed as to the line which is to be adopted. The Under-Secretary treats the matter in an airy fashion, viewing it by the light of the eternal principles of natural justice. The ex-Member of the Legislative Council treats it in a more serious way, deluging the reader with his store of technical knowledge acquired by an official residence in India. Practical controversialist as he is, he prefaces his argument with the observation that the question is "one of some intricacy, and it can hardly be understood without a practical familiarity, which hardly any one possesses, with the way in which business is done in India, and with the interpretation put upon the Indian Council's Act in practice." It is almost as if he said—"the matter is very obstruse; no one knows anything about it except myself, and therefore the public had better put confidence in me, and take my word for it that it is all right." Notwithstanding the confidently-expressed opinion of this high authority, we venture still to retain our original belief in the legality of the action taken by the Viceroy and by the Governor of Madras. No new argument has been adduced which has, in any way, inclined us to change our mind. And if we are not much taken by the legal part of the learned Advocate's letter, still less can we yield submission to the opinions pronounced by him in the latter part of his letter—which, however, we will reserve for comment on some future occasion. Confining ourselves now to the legal statement contained in the letter, we find that the argument amounts to this—firstly, that the Duke of Buckingham could legally pass the rule announced in the Gazette extraordinary of the 3rd September 1877, under the powers conferred on him by the Indian Council's Act, because that Act has been construed by the Government of India as conferring such power; and, secondly, that Lord Lytton could, under certain other statutes, have directed the passing of such a rule as that in question, and that the Governor of Madras would have been bound to obey.

When an unnatural construction of a statute is defended on the ground of neer, two questions always suggest themselves, first, whether the user is definite enough to support the construction advocated, and secondly, whether the user is not itself illegal. A very strong case would have to be made out to show that a statute, so recent as the Indian Councils Act, 1861, was a measure which, in the sense in which, on the face of it, cannot be discovered. Now, all that can be said in the case in hand is that Lord Canning and his successors have, as a matter of fact, found it necessary for the despatch of business to distribute it among the several members of the Government, each by himself disposing of the question allotted to him. Now, this may be a very sensible and even a very indispensable arrangement, and it is an arrangement which the members of a Government can hardly be prevented from making; but neither the convenience of it, nor the fact of its having been made, prove that the 28th Section of the Act justifies the making of the rule which purports to have the power to be conferred upon the Governor General in Council, and in another section simply says that the Governor General may from time to time make rules for the more convenient transaction of business in Council, a plain man wants a good deal of persuasion to make him believe that Parliament intended the power given by the latter section to comprehend the very things which the Governor General is empowered to do under the former Section, provided only that certain conditions have been first fulfilled. Again, when there is a statute declaring expressly that the Court of Directors, that is, at the present day, the Secretary of State, may suspend the appointment of a Council, and have the executive Government of a Presidency administered by a Governor alone, it is difficult to believe that an innocent-looking section like the 28th of the Council's Act, is intended to give practically the same power to a Governor himself. Then, for his second argument, Sir J. Stephen contends that under the 40th and 41st Sections of the statute of George III., coupled with the 54th and the 65th Sections of William IV., the Governor General might anyhow have ordered the Governor to do what he has done. Now, if the 65th Section of the latter statute stood alone, this argument would have some force, because, in the most general terms possible, it contains that the Governors of Presidencies shall be bound to obey the orders and instructions of the Governor General in Council, and the statute of George III. had already declared that the Governor General might, while absent from Council, issue such orders as the Governor General in Council might issue. MAX GREGER'S HUNGARIAN WINES.

(Extract from the Lancet.)

We have examined the stock of Hungarian Wines in the cellars of Mr. Max Greger, 17, Mincing Lane, the Agent of the Chamber of Commerce of Vienna, for introducing the Hungarian Wines to the notice of English consumers. These Wines, offered to the consumer through the direct Agency of the representative of the chamber, are well worthy of the attention of the public and the profession. Hungary is the next great Wine-producing country to France, and the export of her Wines to that country is largely increasing. A great deal of Hungarian Wine is also sold in this country under the false title of French and Portuguese Wines better known to ordinary Wine drinkers. But they should need no such recommendation. We found in Mr. Max Greger's cellars, Wines which can favourably compare with the highest class of French and Spanish Vintages. Amongst Red dinner Wines, the Carlowitz (dry and selected,) and amongst White Wines, the Somlan and white (Edenburg (selected) are remarkable for excellence of flavour, for delicacy, and for soundness. Many of the Hungarian Wines are of a high alcoholic standard, and for all medical purposes as for ordinary consumption, they are by far more worthy of notice than most of the common and adulterated French Wines offered at equal prices. A considerable quantity of Hungarian Wine is sold in England as Port Wine and as Bordeaux Wine; but there can be no reason why they should not be known in their own names. The Hungarian Wines are particularly rich in phosphoricacid, and are generally richer in alcohol than the Bordeaux Wines. The dietetical powers of these Wines are of a high order, and we commend to the Medical profession the pure Wines of Hungary as specially worthy of notice.

THE Undersigned have been appointed SOLE AGENTS in Bombay for these Wines, now in such great favour in Europe, and to introduce them in India will supply sample cases containing 1 dozen assorted kinds.

PAINS IN THE BACK, GRAVEL, LUMBAGO RHEUMATISM, GOUT, DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER, &c.

DR. DE ROOS' COMPOUND RENAL PILLS

ARE celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints. Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder, and Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs generally. Possessing tonic properties, they agree with the most delicate stomach, strengthen the digestive organs, increase the appetite, improve the general health, and in three days will effect a cure when copaiba, cubebs, and all dangerous medicines of that class have utterly failed. 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 33s. per box.

These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone many thousands have been annually restored to health, when every other medicine has failed. Their vast superiority over everything else in the cure of the above complaints is universally acknowledged, and the extraordinary demand for them ever since their first introduction is without precedent. In no instance have they ever been known to fail, or produce those dangerous symptoms so often resulting from copaiba, cubebs, turpentine, and other medicines now lightly resorted to. They require neither confinement nor change of diet, and may justly be considered the only safe efficacious remedy for all stages of those disorders for which they are recommended.

THE MOST WONDERFUL PILLS IN THE WORLD.

DR. DE ROOS'

PILULÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS.

ALL sufferers from general nervousness, and morbid feelings, low spirits, loss of memory, sleeplessness, harassing dreams, unnecessary fears, mental irritability, failure of the mental and bodily powers, weakness of the nerves, headache, noises in the head, giddiness, indigestion, and other symptoms of chronic disease, will hail with joy the discovery of Dr. De Roos' Life Pills, which speedily and almost magically remove pain and disease of whatever nature, restore perfect energy to the spirits, vigour to the body, and strengthen all the organs on which health and life depend. They do not contain a particle of mercury, but are purely vegetable, and for all affections of the liver, flatulency, bile, sick headache dizziness, loss of appetite, lowness of spirits, sensations of fulness at the pit of the stomach, pain between the shoulders, and the distress arising from indigestion and general debility, they will be found of unexampled efficacy ; and it is no small advantage that they can be taken at any time without danger from wet or cold, or necessity for restraint from business or pleasure. They act mildly on the bowels, without pain or griping, impart strength to the stomach, promote a healthy action of the liver, thus preventing, or when present, curing the jaundice and dropsy, clearing the skin, removing sallowness and pimples, purifying the blood, bracing the nerves, and wonderfully invigorating the whole system. Females of all ages will find them invaluable, and should never be without them. Price 1s, 1½d, 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s. and 33s. per box.

THE MOST ASTOUNDING CURES are daily being effected in cases of Nervous Debility, Impurity of the Blood, Defective Circulation, Languor, Lassitude, Depression of Spirits, Indigestion, Pain and Palpitation in the Side, Harassing Dreams, &c., &c., by whose effects are really magical in restoring lost tone to the system (arising from whatever cause), re-invigorating and enlivening the whole corporeal frame, and gradually, but effectively, building up the most shattered constitution.

WORLD-FAMED GUTTÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS,

Although this truly wonderful recuperative tonic is not put forward as imparting immortality, it is not too much to say that by its timely use hundreds of apparently hopeless cases given up by the faculty, are now in the enjoyment of health (life's greatest blessing), a living testimony to the unspeakable value of this remarkable medicine. Hundreds of testimonials too numerous to publish, may be seen by any one. This preparation is extremely pleasant to take and none need suffer while such a miraculous medicament is in existence. Persons of studious habits, debilitated females and those on whom the wear and tear of life is beginning to tell, should persevere steadily with this life-reviving tonic for one month, and they will be astonished at its results. All those who have tried other means, galvanic and electric appliances, &c., without any beneficial result, are earnestly recommended to make fair trial of this medicine, which being connected on the highest scientific principles, invariably gives the utmost satisfaction.

The great success attendant on this wonderful discovery has led to a host of humble and worthless imitations. The genuine has the words "WALTER DE ROOS, LONDON," printed in white letters on the British Government stamp by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners. Price 1½s. and 33s. per Bottle. Sold by Messrs. TREACHER & Co., Limited, Bombay, and all the principal Merchants in India.
